

london song festival

19:15 Fri 20 Oct 2017 - A Quiet Revolution,

Nadine Benjamin – Soprano,
Julien van Mellaerts – Baritone,
Nathan Medina - Speaker,
Nigel Foster - Piano

Concert curated by Michael Harper

Songs by forgotten black British and African American composers, in association with Black History Month and the African American Art Song Alliance. A celebration of the Civil Rights movement that transformed the lives of black people, and which is in many ways still ongoing. Including songs by Samuel Coleridge-Taylor, Errollyn Wallen, Florence Price, Margaret Bonds, Undine Smith Moore and many others.

Presented by soprano Nadine Benjamin, hailed by Opera Now magazine as one of the top ten of a new generation of sopranos who are destined to have impressive careers, and baritone Julien van Mellaerts, winner of this year's prestigious Kathleen Ferrier Award, with Nigel Foster (piano).

Tickets: £15/£10 (plus processing fees) - click HERE to book